Welcome to the Jungle!

Fort Myers, Florida; April 23, 2008 – A new restaurant is on its way to town! 25% of the food sales from Thursday, April 24th will go to support Habitat for Humanity of Lee County. Elephant Bar Restaurant will open its doors in the Fort Myers Edison Mall, near JC Penneys. The atmosphere of the restaurant has a jungle adventure, tropical-theme and known for its culinary experience. "Elephants have a great memory. We like to think that our restaurant is a memorable experience, an escape from the concrete jungle. And that's why we're called Elephant Bar Restaurant. Our menu offers a broad array of flavors from around the world with a wide variety of items from fresh salads, sandwiches, burgers, regional favorites, fire grilled fish, chicken, steaks and Pacific Rim Specialties," says Director of Marketing Liz Geavaras. The menu includes more than 20 items under the price of $10. The California-based restaurant may be new to Lee County, but has actually be around for almost 30 years and will provide about 195 jobs to the area.

Habitat for Humanity of Lee County is a non-profit organization dedicated to eliminating substandard housing in Lee County. So far, Habitat has built more than 900 homes in Lee County since 1982.
